

This tree is something quite spectacular, fit to grace the most magical of winter wonderlands. If you're the type of family that likes to push the boat out for Christmas, this could be the festive show stopper you're looking for.

Heavily laden with multi-coloured lights and artificial frosting, it really doesn't need much extra decoration. That's probably just as well, given how much it costs.

This is the heaviest, tallest tree we've tested, and you'll find it takes a bit of exertion to get it set up. Thankfully, the rewards are pretty glorious. A bit of the "snow" does tend to drop off during setup, so some light vacuum cleaning may be required to keep the area tidy.
