

We're approaching the most wonderful time of the year and to help celebrate the Sunday Post has teamed up with Hayes Garden World to offer readers the chance to win one of TWO luxurious National Tree 6ft Pre-Lit Babyberry Spruces, each worth £289.99.

Hayes Garden World is a leading supplier of garden furniture, garden accessories and luxury artificial Christmas trees. With an amazing range of Christmas Trees on offer, there is something for every home.

The Babyberry Spruce uses a combination of Polyethylene (PE) and PVC to give the branches an attractive and realistic look.

This is one of Hayes Garden World's most popular trees, and with the 500 white sparkly lights already woven into the tree, it just needs a little extra decoration with some baubles and tinsel to add an extra sparkle to your Christmas.

The long life, energy efficient LED lights will last for years and have replaceable bulbs in case of any breakages in transit, with spares included.
